Critical Incident Update #2 – SWWIIRT Officer-Involved Shooting Investigation in Camas

Camas, Wash. – The below update is in reference to the Southwest Washington Independent Investigative Response Team (SWWIIRT) investigation of a Clark County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) officer-involved shooting that occurred on Wednesday, Nov. 13, 2024, in Camas, Washington.

The suspect was treated at a local hospital for non-life-threatening injuries and released. The individual has been booked into the Clark County Jail by the Camas Police Department. The Camas Police Department will be conducting the investigation into the preceding crimes and circumstances for which law enforcement was called to the scene, any questions about that investigation should be directed to Chief Tina Jones of the Camas Police Department TJones@cityofcamas.us.

SWWIIRT's scope of investigation will be on the use of deadly force, additional details will be released when available; this remains an active and ongoing investigation.

This update is required in compliance with WAC 139-12, which mandates weekly updates be sent out by the lead investigative agency in investigations where a Washington State Peace Officer uses deadly force in the capacity of his or her law enforcement duties. These updates are required even if no new information is available at the time of the update.

With the passage of Washington State Initiative 940 in 2018, and Substitute House Bill 1064 in 2019, incidents where the use of deadly force by a peace officer results in death, substantial bodily harm, or great bodily harm require an independent investigation. This investigation must be conducted in the same manner as a criminal investigation and state law now requires an "independent investigation" completely independent of the involved agency.

Per WAC 139-12, the IIT is unable to release any criminal history related to the individual, which includes the circumstances surrounding the initial contact, which prompted the law enforcement response. This information can only be released if specifically requested by the media, and is able to be released consistent with the Public Records Act Chapter 42.56 RCW.

Weekly updates will be provided as the investigation continues. The policies and operating procedures of the IIT are available to the public at: <https://www.wsp.wa.gov/independent-investigation-team/>.
